

BACK BAD TODAY?

Backache is usually kidney-ache and makes you dull, nervous and tired. Use Doan's Kidney Pills for weak kidneys—the remedy recommended by your friends and neighbors.

Mrs. T. J. Warner, Randolph St., Neesholt, Wis., says: "I suffered from a constant pain in the small of my back, which I think came from hard work. Every time I bent over to do my washing or other housework, a pain like a knife being thrust into me, would shoot through my back. An advertisement of Doan's Kidney Pills led me to get a box. They relieved me and I sent for two more boxes, which completely cured me. I think Doan's Kidney Pills are without an equal in curing kidney complaint."

Price 50 cents, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that cured Mrs. Warner. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

The special committee appointed to investigate the question of a township or union high school in the town of Amherst, has presented a careful, summarized report to the Parent-Teachers' association. The committee, which was composed of B. O. Richter, L. A. Pomeroy, Dr. F. Metcalf and Chas. J. Danger Signal.

If the fire bell should ring would you run and stop it or go and help put out the fire? It is much the same way with a cough. A cough is a danger signal as much as a fire bell. You should no more try to suppress it than to stop a fire bell when it is ringing, but should cure the disease that causes the cough. This can nearly always be done by taking Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Many have used it with the most beneficial results. It is especially valuable for the persistent cough that so often follows a bad cold or an attack of the grip. Mrs. Thomas Beeching, Andrews, Ind., writes: "During the winter my husband takes cold easily and coughs and coughs. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is the best medicine for breaking up these attacks and you cannot get him to take any other." Obtainable everywhere.

1916 YELLOWSTONE
TRAIL PROGRESS

Trans-Continental Highway Is Now Definitely Established, Says President Parmley.

"The touring season of 1916 over the Yellowstone Trail, for the long distance traveler, may be considered closed as it is not probable that during the next four months a tourist could traverse the entire Trail without encountering storms," says President J. W. Parmley of the Yellowstone Trail association in his official review of the year.

"In actual accomplishment the year has excelled all others, and tourist travel has been far beyond expectations. The association for two years carried on an aggressive campaign for the opening of the Yellowstone National Park to automobiles, but this was not permitted by the Department of the Interior until August, 1915, so that 1916 is the first full season for such travel. The report of the Superintendent of the Park recently issued, shows that in 1916, 35,849 persons passed through the entrance of this wonderland, and of this number 16,225 were in automobiles. These were tourists in their own cars, as transportation companies are not permitted to carry passengers for pay through the Park in other than horsedrawn vehicles.

"During the fall of 1916 the Yellowstone Trail was logged by the Blue Book representative, accompanied by the President of the association, from Chicago to Seattle after a thorough investigation of all proposed routes from the west line of Montana to the Pacific, and a definite conclusion had been reached by the Executive Committee, and its representatives, as to the permanent location. The location from Chicago to Plymouth Rock was left open until the spring of 1916. Many routes were recommended, and final action was not taken until these were investigated. The public response to the association's selection has shown that the action of the committee was wise. The location from coast to coast is a settled fact with the exception of minor changes that may become necessary as the time passes. No 'entangling alliances' have been made. It is one main road with no branches or loops, except from Livingston to the entrance of the Yellowstone National Park.

"Believing that good would come from a test of transcontinental routes, the officers of the association challenged the Lincoln Highway Association for a race from ocean to ocean, although under the handicap of 400 miles greater distance. This challenge was not accepted. The Executive Committee, and members from each state through which the Trail runs (by its usual method of action between annual meetings) decided by referendum vote to make a test of the Trail by a system of relays from Plymouth Rock to Fort Lawton, Seattle, and this became a national event. The association undertook to transport a message from the Secretary of War, delivered to its representative at Plymouth Rock to the Commander at Fort Lawton, in 120 hours elapsed time. In June, 1915 a relay from Chicago to Seattle was undertaken in 100 hours, and of this time 97 hours and 10 minutes were used, or a little over 26 miles per hour, from the tower in Chicago to the totem pole at Seattle. The relay of 1916 required 121 hours and 12 minutes. We were disappointed but offer no apologies. Road construction compelled detours of over fifty miles which was not taken into consideration when the schedule was made. A blinding rain and hail storm for nearly forty miles made it almost impossible to travel the third night, and caused a loss of several hours. Considering these hindrances, seventy-two minutes off on an ocean to ocean run was not bad. A night and day record of 31 miles per hour across the continent over a trail four years old for two-thirds its length, less than a year the other three, proves the practicability of such route and will be for cross country travel, its the practicability of such route and bears testimony to the work and enthusiasm of those comprising the organization. But good as it is, and will be for cross country travel, its greatest value is locally. It has been a great educator in highway construction and maintenance; and in development of its adjacent territory it is playing no small part. In the prairie and timber country, paralleling as it does great railway systems, it has saved such companies and the public, hundreds of thousands of dollars as a great fire guard.

"All along the line work has progressed far beyond the expectations of those, who, a few months ago, advocated concerted action and organization to the end that across the northern part of the United States a transcontinental highway be located. Towns, cities, counties and states, pessimist and patriot, private and public citizen now see the benefits locally of such a road and, with rare exceptions are uniting in a great effort to make what is going to be the ocean to ocean highway."

The mammoth candle at M. Clifford's store burned out last Saturday morning, having burned 11 days, 14 hours and 3 minutes. The two who guessed nearest to the time the candle burned were Hattie Holmes and Amelia Betlach and the former has received a $5.00 dress and the latter a $2.50 dress. The guesses, of which there were between seven and eight hundred, were examined by E. J. Pfiffner, Harry Boston and E. D. Glennon. A great majority of the little ones were far out of the way.

For instance, Charlie Cashion's guess was 1,684 hours, while his brother, James, guessed 720 hours. Willie Atwell guessed it would burn 1 hour, Mary Berens 1 hour, 49 minutes and 23 seconds, Adin Rice 2 hours and 10 minutes, Emily Berens 2 hours, 41 minutes and 56 seconds and Georgia McLeod 3 hours.

Miss Agnes Dyer, youngest daughter of Mrs. Ellen Dyer, passed away Monday evening at her home on Clark street after a long illness with tuberculosis. She was born in this city on Feb. 14, 1892, and was nearly 15 years of age. Her mother and two sisters, Misses May and Grace, survive.

There was a pleasant family reunion at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Martin G. Miller, on N. Third street, on Christmas day, when all members of the household were together for the first time in several years. The children who came from abroad were Ole and S. J. Miller of Chicago and A. J. Miller of Amherst Junction.

DID YOU KNOW IT FROM THE GOOD JUDGE'S LOOKS?

HERE, JUDGE, YOU SET MY FRIEND RIGHT. ISN'T THAT AS LARGE A CHEW AS YOU EVER TAKE?

I DIDN'T KNOW THE JUDGE EVER CHEWED.

THAT'S JUST IT—MY FRIEND NEVER NOTICE IT—PURE TOBACCO AND A SMALL CHEW!

IT seems as though most men had just been waiting and waiting for W-B CUT Chewing. Naturally it should be that way. Tobacco satisfaction and not a big chew is what tobacco lovers want. You couldn't get it the old way—cheap tobacco and excess sweetening. But rich tobacco, shredded, lightly salted, that's what makes tobacco satisfaction—that's why W-B CUT is winning all this popularity.

WAS EARLY DAY RESIDENT

Mrs. M. C. Quinn, Who Lived Here Years Ago, Passes Away in Chicago This Week.

Nearly all of our older residents will recall Mrs. M. C. Quinn, who came here in 1857 and remained until the family moved to Chicago about thirty years ago. The lady passed away at her home, 3538 Lexington street, last Sunday, aged 84 years. She had been in poor health for several weeks, a general breakdown being followed by uremic poisoning, the latter ailment being the direct cause of her demise. During nearly all the years the Quinn family lived in Stevens Point, their home was on what was then Normal avenue, a few hundred feet east of the Empire theatre building, and as Mrs. Quinn delighted in the company of young people, many happy gatherings were held there in the days gone by. Ever since going to Chicago she maintained her youthful spirits and it had been her custom to give a party to all children in the neighborhood on each of her birthdays.

Mrs. Quinn's oldest daughter, Mrs. W. J. Leonard, spent a couple of days in Chicago last week and although it was realized at that time that the aged lady's condition was serious, yet hopes were felt for recovery.

Besides Mrs. Leonard, there are four other daughters and a son, Misses M. Frances, Catherine and Agnes of Chicago, Mrs. Jacob L. Sargent of Jackson, Cal., and George B. Quinn of Chicago.

Funeral services were held at Lady of Sorrows church at 11 o'clock Tuesday morning, followed by interment in Calvary cemetery, Chicago.

He died there several years ago. Surviving are two daughters and three sons, Mrs. Margaret Kraus, Miss Louise Lauer, and Alexander, Andrew and Edward Lauer, all of St. Paul. MAY FORM ASSOCIATION.

J. M. Coyner, county agricultural agent, was at Bancroft last Friday, where he conferred with Harold Ostrem, cashier of the Bancroft State bank, relative to the organization of a cow testing association. There is growing interest in cow testing in the Bancroft region, but it is not known whether the number of dairymen available is sufficient at the present time to warrant an association. However, it has been suggested that Bancroft and Junction City get together on the proposition and it is possible that this may be accomplished.

Mr. Coyner was also at Wautoma Friday, where he judged a corn show conducted by the bank of that place. Eighteen men exhibited samples and the first prize, a cup, went to George Barnes of Hancock, who showed golden glow corn. Mr. Coyner gave a talk to the growers and while at Wautoma was the guest of Gage Byse, a schoolmate of his at Madison.
